

YOU ARE INVITED TO JOIN US

life on the playground

a conversation about team ministry with Scott Chapman & Jeff Griffin
co-senior pastors of The Chapel

Remember the carefree days on the playground? We learned a lot as children there: how to swing and jump rope, how to make friends, the pleasure of independence. But at the same time, the playground is where many of us got in our first fight, first felt left out, first experienced real conflict with others. The playground is where we first learned that life is so much better, but so much harder, with other people.

Pastors live in this tension every day, whether they do so in a professional staff, with a team of elders, or a group of volunteers: ministry is so much better, but so much harder, when you do it with other people. So, how can young pastors lead teams of people well?

The Young Pastors Network invites you to join us in Chicago, July 10-12, 2012, for a conversation with Scott Chapman and Jeff Griffin, co-senior pastors of The Chapel, as we explore together the joys and frustrations of doing ministry together.
